Located in Corona del Mar, California and just a few blocks from the beach, this modern beach house features inspiring interior and exterior ideas.

This single family home, built by one of my favorites California builders, Patterson Custom Homes, with interiors by the very talented, Trish Steele from Churchill Design, and designed by Brandon Architects, Inc., has 6 bedrooms, 5 ½ baths, and approximately 4,440 square feet. The interiors are open and filled with natural light where a neutral color scheme make every room feel welcoming and special. The kitchen, being one of the most brilliantly designed room in the house, opens to a cozy courtyard with its own outdoor kitchen and lounge area. Upstairs, an expansive master bedroom is certainly a place where anyone can envision themselves going to relax at the end of a busy day.

Start your week looking and dreaming about this perfectly designed modern beach house. This one really deserves some extra pins!

California Beach House with Modern Coastal Interiors

The exterior of this home is beautiful and inspiring. I love the exposed brick and the white siding with black windows and doors.
